CHAPTER VI.

BARNETT was at breakfast when a telegram was laid at his elbow by the maid. He opened it leisurely, thinking it some matter of business, but his hands stiffened as he read:

Bob Raymond is shot. Send best doctor in town quick.

For just a moment he sat in silence, then rose and walked slowly to his library. Seating himself before the little desk on which stood a movable telephone receiver, he began to "make things hum." He reached his friend, Dr. Braide, and set him in motion. He ordered out his racing automobile. He telegraphed Watson to take fresh horses and return by way of Junction and get the best doctor there. "Burn the air as you go," he added.

After giving orders for his valise to be packed he walked up to Mrs. Barnett's room and kissed her good morning without betraying his excitement.

"I'm going out to the ranch," he said. "The boys are having trouble with the hay, and I want to see how they're coming on. You won't mind, will you?"

"Of course not, Don. I'm going to be all right in a few hours. I'm glad you're going. You can bring Ann home. You should have gone with her yesterday."

"I see that now," he answered dryly. "It will be a startling world for her. Well, I'm off. Better stay in bed today. I'll be back by tomorrow night, I think."

When he took his seat in his big, flat, powerful auto car his face was set in grim lines. "Is she all right, Henry?" he asked of his engineer.

"In perfect order, sir."

"She needs to be. This is to be a record breaker."

With his big goggles over his eyes and his cap drawn low down on his forehead, Barnett seized the wheel, and the ponderous, panting organism began to move. Wheeling into the street, he let on the full power of the engine, and when he drew up at Braide's gate the mechanism was hot with speed. Its joints oiled and frictionless—in radiant trim.

Braide, a small, smiling, trig young fellow, came out. "What is it all about, Don?"

"Got your tools?"

He pointed at his bag, "Emergency kit."

"Then all aboard!"

Henry leaped out and caught up the bag, while the doctor climbed in beside Barnett on the front seat.

"This looks ominous. How much of a trip is it going to be?"

"Just a short run," answered Barnett as he swung the shining red bulk of the car into Magalloway avenue, which led directly east over the plain.

Beneath their feet the puff and click of the piston and the purr of cogs grew each moment more furious until all sounds fused into a humming roar. The keen air of the morning snote the riders joyfully. The flaming sunlight slanted upon them with growing heat, and backward, beneath them, the sod swept like a tawny carpet, while Barnett, watchful, intent, composed, worked the levers and valves with the skill of a practical engineer. When they had crossed the two railroads and were climbing the long, low ridge he casually remarked:

"My foreman, Raymond, is shot, and you've got to pull him through."

"Do You Want to Know What You Swallow?"

There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of MEDICINES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. It is but natural that the one who has been deceived in the past, in the position of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of Dr. Pierce, has, by showing exactly what his well-known medicines are composed of, completely disarmed all harping critics who have heretofore unjustly attacked them. A little pamphlet has been compiled, from the standard medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, showing the strongest endorsements by leading medical writers of the several ingredients which enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines. Address Dr. Pierce at above.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated anti-bilious granules. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Do not bog the "pill habit," but cure constipation. One or two each day for a laxative and regulator, three or four for an active cathartic. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines. Address Dr. Pierce at above.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY. In copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 500,000 copies at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away $50,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away $50,000 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in stuff paper covers. 3 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

He indicated Mrs. Scribbins. "We must find this bullet."

Barnett turned to the men who filled the doorway. "Clear out, boys; the doctor wants to be alone now."

Raymond smiled a little. "The bullet went on. It's in the wall somewhere."

Barnett came to the door and said to Ann: "You better go out under the trees and rest. You look tired."

"I will stay if I can be of any use."

"We don't need you, Mrs. Scribbins will help us. Please go. Louis, take her away till this is over."

Released from her benumbing load of responsibility, Ann laid her hand on her brother's arm. "Come, Louis," and together they went out along the little winding path which led to the spring.

"What do you suppose they will do to him?" asked Louis.

Ann turned sick. "Oh, I don't know! Don't speak of it! It's too horrible!"

When they re-entered the cabin Barnett met them with a smile. "The doctor says Rob's all right. He insists that Ann saved his life. You poor girl! What a night that boy let you in for! I didn't know till ten minutes ago that you were here all alone and that Jones and his wife had vanquished. I hope you'll forgive me, Ann."

"Oh, I blame no one but myself," she wearily replied. "I shouldn't have come to this miserable, ghastly region."

"Rob wants to see you. Will you come in and speak to him?"

Ann reluctantly followed Barnett into the inner room where Raymond, with his wounds dressed and limbs properly clothed, lay stretched on the bed. He was very pale, but his eyes were calm and quiet. He reached a feeble right hand toward her, saying painfully: "You've been mighty good to me. By and by I will try to thank you. Without you I would have bled to death."

"I beg you not to give it a moment's thought. I did very little," Ann coldly replied.

His eyes were round and soft and appealing, like those of a big wounded dog. "Don't leave me now. I want you!"

She glanced at the young doctor, who stood listening. He nodded as if to say, "Grant his request." And so she put his hand away gently as if the clinging fingers were those of a sleeping babe and said, with a return of pity: "I will stay till tomorrow. Now please go to sleep."

He closed his eyes under her palm, and tears of gratitude came stealing down from his brown lashes. For the moment she forgot that she had known him but a day; that she, too, was a stranger—far removed from him in every thought and purpose—and consented to stay because he clung to her and needed her. A hand seized her throat, and an emotion which alienated her from her old self rose within her bosom and for a moment frightened her. In the end it irritated her, this pity, and yet it could not be shaken off. A deeper self which she had not known insisted that she keep her word to the wounded man, and so for two days she oscillated between a pitying tenderness for him and a disgust and bitterness with herself and her weakness.

On the third day Braide pronounced his patient out of danger, and then Ann's pity died.

"I am going home," she said to Louis, "and you must go with me. They are going to take the foreman to the Springs, and I cannot leave you here."

Ann said good-bye to the wounded man in Barnett's presence, and a sense of irritation caused her to be very distant with him.

"I hope you will soon be able to be removed," she said, evading his glance. "This is a distressing place in which to be sick, and now I must say good-bye."

He took her hand in both of his. "I shall miss you, but I won't ask you to stay any longer. You've been very sweet and helpful to me, and I hate to have you go. You will let me see you again, won't you?"

"My cousin intends to take you to his house as soon as you can be moved," she answered formally. "No doubt we shall meet again there."

"I will live in hope of that," he answered gallantly.

Each Blames the Other.

Franklin, Ind., March 9.—Unable to furnish bonds to the amount of $1,500 for his appearance in answer to charges of forgery, conspiracy and obtaining property by false pretenses, Zachary S. Taylor, president of the Frisco Land and Townsite company, which he claims is incorporated under the laws of Missouri with a paid-up capital stock of $100,000, was committed to jail here last evening after an arraignment before Justice of the Peace Sellers. Upon entering the jail corridor he met Harry C. Faulkner, a general agent of the same company, who is held on similar charges which grew out of an attempt to sell Oklahoma town lots to residents of Greenwood. The two men stoutly maintain their innocence and each says that his present plight is the result of the other's operations.

British Army Estimates.

London, March 9.—In introducing the army estimates, amounting to nearly $150,000,000, in the house of commons, War Secretary Haldane announced at the outset that the Liberals did not desire to destroy the army, but required greater efficiency at less expenditure. The government accepted what he denominated as "the blue water" principle, namely, that the navy at its present strength was capable of defending Great Britain.

A Complete Victory.

Morocco, Ind., March 9.—The trial in the circuit court at Kentland to test the remonstrance recently filed against the saloon traffic here, resulted in a sweeping victory for the temperance people. Today all the saloons here are closed, with the probability that the town will be "dry" for at least two years.

REPUBLICANS

Will Elect Delegates to State Convention, March 17.

Pursuant to an order of the Republican State Committee the Republicans of Jackson county will meet in their respective townships at the places designated below on SATURDAY, MARCH 17, at 1:30 P. M. for the purpose of electing delegates and alternates to the state convention which will meet in the city of Indianapolis on Wednesday and Thursday, April 11 and 12, 1906.

On the basis of one delegate for every 200 votes and for each additional fraction of more than 100 votes cast for Geo. A. Cunningham for presidential elector at the November election in 1904, Jackson county is entitled to 14 delegates and 14 alternates, apportioned to the townships as follows:

Brownstown, 1 delegate 1 alternate.
Place of meeting, Brownstown.
Carr, 1 delegate 1 alternate. Place of meeting, Medora.

Driftwood, 1 delegate, 1 alternate. Place of meeting, Vallochia.

Grassyfork, 1 delegate, 1 alternate. Place of meeting, Tampico.

Hamilton, 1 delegate, 1 alternate. Place of meeting, Cortland.

Jackson and Washington, 5 delegates, 5 alternates. Place of meeting, Seymour.

Owen, 1 delegate, 1 alternate. Place of meeting, Clearspring.

Redding, 1 delegate, 1 alternate. Place of meeting, Rockford.

Salt Creek, 1 delegate, 1 alternate. Place of meeting, Freetown.

Vernon, 1 delegate, 1 alternate. Place of meeting, Crocherville.

By order of
C. T. BENTON, Co. Chm.
T. V. PREWITT, Secy.

THE dog poisoner is still operating in this city. His work is anything but commendable and he should be hunted down and prosecuted. He is sure to be found out if he continues to deal out poison.

THE lightning rod dispenser has been working his old scheme over in Jennings too. It is told that a farmer over in Gevers township is out about $150 in experience. Better buy lightning rods and all other goods from home men.

THE farmers of Indiana will be able to save big money this year on binder twine for the reason that the state prison at Michigan City is now manufacturing that article and selling it to the farmers. The business of the binder twine trust will be broken into in Indiana.

JOHN C. BILLMEYER, of Washington, candidate for state auditor, was here Thursday evening between trains and met several republicans and attended the K. of P. meeting for awhile Mr. Billmeier is the present deputy auditor and a very capable and clever gentleman. He has a host of friends over the state.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE addressed the senate Thursday on the state hood bill, of which bill he has charge as chairman of the committee on territories. As is always true when it is known he is to speak, the galleries were crowded. The morning papers say he made a remarkably brilliant and vigorous speech.

THE democrats of Clark county held their primary last week and the results are not pleasing to the out-townships. Jeffersonville with her big vote succeeded in defeating all the candidates in the out-townships for the best offices. We know another county in which the democrats are likely to do the same thing. What the democrats of the west end of Jackson county get out of the approaching primary will be easily counted.

GREAT MEETING.

Seventeenth District Pythians Win Many Compliments.

The K. of P. district meeting that closed here at a late hour Thursday night was the best and most enthusiastic ever held in the district and one of the best ever held in the state. The grand lodge put this sort of an estimate on the meeting as did the representatives of the subordinate lodges present. The attendance was unusually good. Every lodge in the district was represented but one and that one sent a fine report. The enthusiasm and interest were excellent making the meeting a delightful one to be in.

The reports showed that Pythianism is on the increase in this part of the state and the indications are for a still larger growth during 1906.

The session Thursday night lasted from 7:30 to 12:30 and was attended by about 400 Knights.

The Grand Chancellor, F. J. Dunton, Grand Vice Chancellor, J. M. Monahan, the acting Grand Instructor, Geo. W. Powell, and the District Deputy, W. M. Nauer, had prominent parts on the program. The exemplification of the secret work was by Geo. W. Powell.

A very interesting and profitable feature of the evening was the competitive exercises. A prize was offered for the best rendition of Pythagoras, and another for best rendition of sixth senator. In the first the entries were W. W. James, Scott Lodge, C. H. Weitthof, Hermion lodge, W. J. Hare, Graham Valley, F. A. Martin, Dauntless, J. W. Bishop, Madison, Louis Eitel, Rescue, S. W. Shields, Brownsdown, T. A. Harris, Syracuse, Dr. J. M. Jenkins, Cortland. The prize, an emblematic K. of P. ring, was awarded to Dr. Jenkins, of Cortland.

In the other contest were Dr. D. H. Richards, of Cortland, J. W. Silver, Oak Ridge, W. G. Gelle, Hernion, R. M. Wilson, Vallonia, L. Lory, Madison, W. Bridges, Dauntless, and J. B. Wheeler, Cortland. The judges awarded the prize in this contest to L. Lory, of Madison. In both of these contests the representatives of Hermion lodge were close to the winners which means that they acquitted themselves with credit. These contests were very interesting and valuable features.

The resolutions commended the untiring work of the district deputy and W. G. Gelle, K. of R. and S. and the entire membership of Hermion Lodge for the success of this meeting. The Grand Lodge officers were remarkably well pleased.

The House Owner.

Perhaps you bought that "extra house" with the savings of many years. When time passed to you it seemed that you had become a pretty important sort of fellow, after long waiting. It looked as though it would be a nice thing to have a steady income from a property, as well as from your daily work. You felt like a capitalist—like you imagined a capitalist must feel—able to make other things besides your own hands work for you. And the thought that upon waking up every morning you would be a little richer than when you went to bed was a very comforting one—after so many years of the other feeling.

But there seemed to be something wrong somewhere. The rent income of the first three months was swallowed up in repairs—then the tenants moved out one fine morning owing you a couple of months' rent. Taxes were due and payable. The house needed papering and decorating. A new leak in the roof needed attention. You placed a very pretty "To Rent" placard in the window; but the possible tenant walked down the next street when he was in that neighborhood.

In fact, your house had quit working for you; and you had commenced working for it. You had quit managing the house; and the house had begun to manage you.

But, for the sake of a "happy ending" to this little fable, let us suppose that one morning you "woke up" a wiser, if a poorer, man. Let us suppose that, in consideration of the money you had spent in making it a better house, you concluded to raise the rate of rent accordingly; and that you lost no time in writing an effective "To Rent" advertisement of that house. Let us assume that the possible new tenant who had not been on that street lately was a reader of the classified advertisement—as he usually is—and that he signed your lease a few days afterwards.

And having had plenty of "experience" as a landlord you may now expect to reap some of the profits.

Saved the Dog.

It is fortunate since so many dogs have fallen victim to the dog poisoner that a man has been found who can save them if brought to him in time. Thursday a highly prized dog belonging to Dr. F. Lett got hold of some poison. He was on the sure road to death when observed by one of our more sympathetic citizens. In an instant he saw what was the matter. He went to the drug store, secured medicine and gave it to the dog himself. Though very near death's door, the medicine brought relief and saved the dog. Today a good coon-dog got hold of some poison and before he had time to die this same man prescribed and saved the dog's life.

LIVING TOO HASTILY

AMERICAN WOMEN BREAK DOWN

Irregularities and Female Derangements Result—Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Owing to our mode and manner of living, and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, it is said that there is not one woman in twenty-five but that suffers from some derangement of the female organism, and this is the secret of so many unhappy homes.

No woman can be amiable, light-hearted and happy, a joy to her husband and children, and perform the duties incumbent upon her, when she is suffering with backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearing-down pains, displacements, spinal weakness or diseased organs.

Irritability and snappy retorts take the place of pleasantness, and all sunshine is driven out of the home, and lives are wrecked by woman's great enemy—female trouble.

Read this letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my health and brought on extreme nervousness and despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. Day by day I improved in health while taking it until I was entirely cured. I can attend to my social and household duties and thoroughly enjoy life once more, as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, without an ache or a pain."
—Mrs. Chester Curry, 42 Saratoga Street, East Boston, Mass.

At the first indication of ill health, painful or irregular periods, pain in the side, headache, backache, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues," secure at once a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

The Hoosier Girl.

Buskirk in Danger.

A special dispatch from Salem says that Judge W. S. Paynter will be nominated for judge of 42nd judicial circuit. If this is true Judge Buskirk will only have until the end of the present year to serve. The same special says that Lige Cox will defeat Judge Zenor and get the vote of Washington county for congress. That congressional fightdown in the Second is getting exceedingly warm and it is said is costing the candidates big money. The Washington county democratic primary is today.

Broken Rail.

The Southern Indiana experienced some trouble east of Sardinia today. On account of a broken rail, engine 216 pulling a freight was derailed and it took about four hours to get it back on the track. The engine was considerably damaged but there was little damage done to the train. No one was hurt.

Officers Elected.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the First Baptist church have elected officers for the coming year as follows: President, Mrs. J. M. Shields, vice-president, Mrs. L. Everingham, secretary, Mrs. Chas. Gr. eslie, treasurer, Mrs. Mort Crabb. The society met with Mrs. A. B. Conrad Thursday.

Editor Daily Worse.

The condition of Reuben Dailey, editor of the Evening News, who has been ill at his home for several weeks was not so favorable yesterday, and his family are fearful that an operation will yet have to be resorted to. Yesterday was the sixty-second anniversary of Mr. Dailey's birth, he being a native of Tottenham, Middlesex county, England.—Jeffersonville Republican.

LEGAL TECHNICALITIES

Upon Such a Basis Will the Sherrick Defense Be Made.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 9.—The attorneys for David E. Sherrick, ex-auditor of state, who is now on trial here on the charge of grand larceny and embezzlement of $120,000, have not outlined their case to the jury, but the proceedings have gone far enough to indicate to many that they intend to bombard the court with such a bewildering maze of legal technicalities that it will be very difficult for twelve ordinary men to reach a unanimous decision. It is also believed that they intend to prove by Sherrick's former associates that he has always been a man of good character, generous to a fault, and kind to all his associates. With a good character established, it is believed they will try to show to the jury that Sherrick did not take any of the state's money with intent to defraud, and that he was merely following a precedent that had been in vogue among public officials for half a century. The fact that the state did not lose a cent in the Sherrick transactions will probably be brought before the jury in an effort to prove that Sherrick had no plan to defraud anyone and that he fully expected to repay every cent he was using. That he was a victim of the system of lending public funds, and not a criminal, will be insisted.

No information is given out at the headquarters of the Mine Workers as to what their plans are for the convention beginning March 15. The miners will meet this time in the German House auditorium, as the old meeting-place, Tomlinson hall, is engaged for other purposes. Secretary-Treasurer Wilson, who is in charge of the headquarters, refuses to hazard a prediction as to the result of the resumption of negotiations. Some of his subordinates are not so optimistic as they were. They do not like the tenor of the interviews given out by some of the leading Indiana and Illinois operators, who state very plainly that they are determined not to grant an increase. In fact, the Mine Workers are apparently more concerned this time about the attitude of the Indiana and Illinois operators than they are about F. L. Robbins and his Eastern delegation. They are expecting the Indiana and Illinois men to come in and refuse to sign a scale for an advance. In spite of the talk of peace that has been coming from New York and Pittsburg, the officials of the Mine Workers here would not be surprised if there should be a strike April 1. In fact, one of them said today that it is very probable there will be either a strike or suspension.

Horace Stilwell of Anderson, candidate for Republican nomination for congress in the Eighth district, will remain here until after the state committee decides next Monday whether it will interfere with the rules fixed for the district primaries April 3. He intends to stand by the action of the district committee regardless of what ever the state committee does, as his attorneys have informed him that the state committee has no jurisdiction in the matter. They say they have run down the records and have decided from them that the state committee has no standing legally that permits it to interfere with the action of a district organization. Stilwell's attorneys have informed him that the state committee not only cannot set aside the rules of the district committee by its own action, but that it cannot go into court and have them rescinded. If there is an effort to keep the name of Stilwell from appearing on the official ballots in the counties where Congressman Cromer controls the local organizations, Stilwell's attorneys tell him he can force them to put it on if he is nominated under the rules of the district committee.

One of Mayor Charles A. Bookwalter's closest friends says that he will never be a candidate for any other elective office, but that he desires to be one of the delegates from this district to the next Republican national convention. If his friend is right this disposes of the Bookwalter gubernatorial boom, but at the same time it does not tend to ease the minds of the managers of the Fairbanks presidential boom.

Governor Hanly has appointed G. D. Jay, T. S. Gearhart, Republicans, and Jackson Morrow, Democrat, members of the police board for Kokomo. They will take office immediately, as two old members resigned this week. It is understood the governor told them the lid must be held on tightly and that they promised to enforce the laws rigidly.

Suit for Receiver.

This is that $100,000 factory Columbus located last summer. Among the heaviest creditors is Preston Rider, formerly of this county.

Making Maple Sugar.

For the past month the makers of maple syrup over in Lawrence county have been working in their sugar camps. If all reports are true they know some of the tricks of the trade. Only a short time ago one Southern Indiana car took sixteen barrels of brown sugar to Heltonville. The demand for this is said to be heavy there during the maple syrup season.

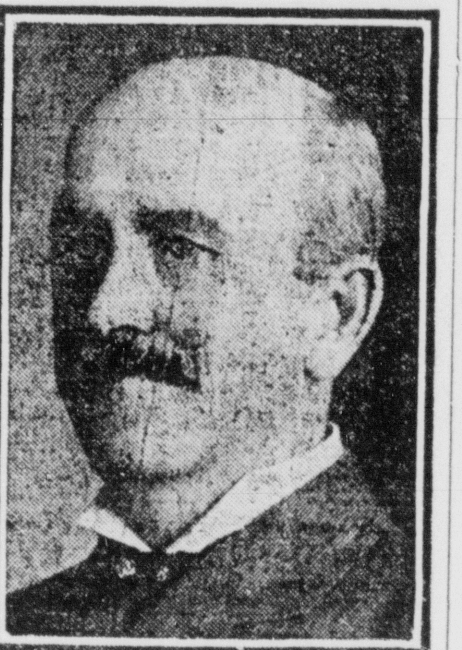

A VERY STRONG MAN

That Is How J. M. Monahan's Friends Count Him In His Race For Party Perfection.

EVIDENCES OF AVAILABILITY

The Reception That Has Been Accorded This Earnest Campaigner in the State Demonstrates Full Well the Measure of His Popularity.

[Indianapolis Correspondence.]
J. M. Monahan, the Third District candidate for the Republican nomination for Treasurer of State, has just completed a thorough canvass of seventy-six of the ninety-two counties, and his reception everywhere has been such that his friends are not only hopeful of his success before the state convention April 11 and 12, but are confident that he will prove a very strong man for the ticket.

Mr. Monahan is forty-nine years of age; a successful farmer, banker and business man of Orleans. His training has well qualified him for the office to which he aspires, and his party record entitles him to careful consideration. He is a resourceful, fighting Republican, who is largely responsible for taking his county out of the Democratic column, where it had been anchored for many years. His unselfish devotion to his party and friends made him one of the strong men of his district, which has enthusiastically endorsed him, promising to give a larger Republican vote if he is nominated. It is said that the Republicans of the Third, who have but little chance against the heavy Democratic majority, are very much in earnest in their statement that the nomination of Mr. Monahan will put life into the masses and help them make a winning fight. The Third has not been recognized in the state convention for several years, except when George Self of Corydon, was nominated for reporter of the supreme court, and its leaders are now hopeful that it will be recognized by the nomination of Mr. Monahan.

The latter has held two offices. He was a member of the house in 1897 and township trustee for five years. He has always been one of the most liberal contributors to the party campaign funds in southern Indiana. His contributions, however, have not been confined to his home organization, as he has given freely to help the Republicans redeem Indianapolis from the Democrats, and to contests in which the party was concerned. He has been for the party first, last and always, and he says now that if he is not nominated he will nevertheless be in the thick of the fight for the ticket. His aim is to make such a clean campaign that if nominated his opponents will have no ground for complaint with his treatment of them, and no excuses for not using all their influence for the success of the entire ticket. It is significant that he is receiving assurances of support from every corner of the state. Before the convention he expects to visit every county and meet as many Republicans as possible.

Mr. Monahan firmly believes that the interest on the public funds belongs to the taxpayers, and he believes there should be a law enacted reforming the methods for handling funds entrusted to public officials. His position on the matter is being generally commended.

"My position on this question is well known to my friends," he says. "But I deem it just and proper that I should make a public statement at this time. I believe that every penny of interest on these funds should go into the public treasury, and I believe in such legislative enactments as will insure this result. If nominated and elected Treasurer of State, I pledge myself to a strict observance of this policy."

Mr. Monahan says that this is his honest belief, and he expects to show his sincerity if he is nominated and elected.

Mr. Monahan is a Knight of Pythias, a 32nd degree Mason and member of the Mystic Shrine. He enjoys the close personal friendship of all the party leaders and is on good terms with all elements of the party. He has not been identified with any factional movements that would be detrimental to the ticket. He is a good organizer, untiring worker and good mixer, combining elements that his friends say will make him a strong factor in the campaign. His headquarters during the convention will be located in Rooms 331 and 333, Claypool hotel.

We Cure Where Others Fail

There are 200 Rexall remedies, "one for each ill," manufactured by the United Drug Company of Boston, whom we represent in this place.

No one Rexall remedy is a "cure-all." It is not necessary for us to invent diseases and symptoms and then endeavor to convince you that one Rexall remedy will cure you of every ailment in the world. To our minds that has been one of the fundamental errors of patent medicine manufacturers, and that has been corrected by the Rexall people. One remedy for each ill, and that remedy the unquestioned best in the world, is the principle upon which Rexall success is founded.

We are proud of our connection with Rexall. We are proud to be able to offer to the people of this community a line of remedies that we back up with every bit of reputation we have earned by square dealing and honest, conscientious treatment of our trade.

Can any principle of business be fairer than this? Is it not thoroughly in accord with President Roosevelt's doctrine of the square deal for every man?

HEALTH REPORT.

Statistics Compiled by County Health Officer.

Dr. D. J. Cummings, county health officer, has filed his report for the year 1905. He reports the general health conditions in the county as good. He says he found the work of the health officers in Seymour, Crothersville and Brownstown well done. He has found many school houses in the county in poor sanitary condition on account of faulty construction. He reports the county buildings in commendable condition.

During the year there were 242 marriages in the county.

Number of births—301 males; 250 females. There were seven plural births.

Number of contagious diseases:—Diphtheria, 2; scarlet fever, 98; cerebro spinal meningitis, 5; typhoid fever, 102; erysipelas, 1; dysentery, 5; smallpox, 1.

There were 379 deaths during the year, 194 males and 185 females. The death rate was highest in February, when there were 46 deaths, and lowest in July, when there were 21 deaths.

The deaths were the results of the following cases:

Tuberculosis, 67; pneumonia, 40; still births and inanition, 32; disease of heart, 28; stomach and bowels, 27; typhoid fever, 15; cholera infantum, 11; dysentery, 8; lagrippe, 9; apoplexy, 10; paralysis, 9; kidneys, 8; disease of brain, 8; cancer, 9; meningitis, 5; senility, 14; bronchitis, 14; scarlet fever and diphtheria, 5; abscess, 2; suicides, 4; accidental, 17; whooping cough, 2 other miscellaneous diseases, 44.

High School Notes.

In the assembly room of the Shields High School this afternoon the exercises were unusually interesting. Before the whole school a short musical program was held after which the clubs met in the different rooms and the several sessions proved very pleasant.

The Dramatic Club entertained the members of the Music and Landscape Clubs with some excellent recitations and dialogues, which were much enjoyed and being their first entertainment before the other clubs, was considered very good.

The subject for discussion in the Debating Club for the afternoon was "Resolved that idleness should be forbidden by law and work be provided by the state for all who cannot secure employment for themselves". The result will be noted tomorrow.

The meeting of the Current Events Club was most beneficial and interesting. This organization is one of the strongest of the High School Clubs and the research work done by the members is proving very helpful.

Crothersville Fair.

The stock holders of the Crothersville Fair Association met in G. M. Beldon's hall Saturday afternoon March 3 and elected a set of 9 directors for the coming year. The directors chosen are D. M. Waters, I. A. Davis, Wm. Goecker, H. J. Coleman, F. B. Butler, Robert Crawford, Mitchell Lett, A. G. Ritz and Albert Kling. These directors will meet in the near future and organize their board and set date of the fair. Every thing points to a better fair than ever this year.

FOR OLD PEOPLE

The W. F. Peter Drug Co. Have a Strength Creator.

Mr. Peter of the above firm of well known druggists, says "hundreds of old people right here in Seymour need just such a strength maker and body-builder as our delicious cod liver oil preparation, Vinol and we simply cannot understand why they will continue to drag out a half-dead and half-alive existence, when we guarantee Vinol will strengthen and invigorate every organ in the body, stop the natural decline and make them well, strong and active."

This is because Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form all of the strength creating and body-building elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but with out a drop of the system clogging oil to upset the stomach and retard its work.

Vinol creates renewed vitality in the most natural manner, making rich, red blood, and building up and strengthening every organ in the body to do its work as nature intended. Many old people have written that they would not take $1000 for the good Vinol has done them.

In the strongest manner we endorse and guarantee Vinol to increase the appetite, give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, build up the run-down, tired and debilitated, make the weak strong, or return to the purchaser every dollar paid for it." W. F. Peter Drug Co.

MARCH WINDS AND APRIL SHOWERS

March and April are, in a way, two of the most disagreeable months in the year. March winds are cold, but they cannot penetrate your home if it is heated with coal bought from us. April showers cannot touch one particle of our immense stock of coal for the reason that every bit of it is under cover.

These are two good reasons why you should buy your coal of Ebner. Another reason, and the best, is that we sell nothing but the very best grades at the lowest market prices.

Our famous Raymond City Soft Coal has no equal as a heating and cooking fuel. It is a lasting fuel, and ignites quickly, burns slowly, leaves but few ashes. Raymond City Coal if bought now, will cost you but $4 per ton, delivered at your house or place of business. We are the sole agents for it in Seymour. Telephone your orders to

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

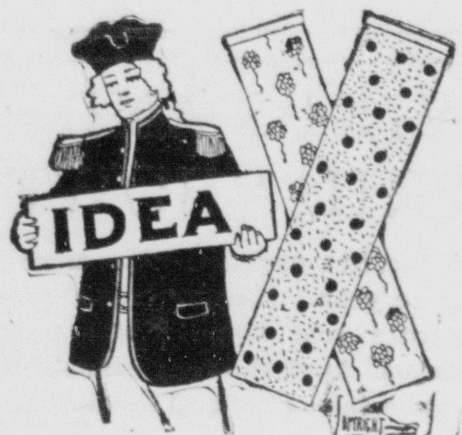

KING OF ALL DISEASES

To Contagious Blood Poison rightfully belongs the name King of all Diseases. It is the most powerful of all human ailments—corrupting every part of the body and wrecking and ruining the lives of those unfortunate enough to contract it. When the first sign appears in the form of an insignificant sore or ulcer, few persons realize that the deadly virus has entered the blood; but so potent is the poison that one drop will vitiate and pollute the purest and healthiest blood, and in a short time the degrading and horrible symptoms begin to appear. The mouth and throat ulcerate, the glands in the neck and groins swell, the hair and eye-brows fall out, copper-colored spots appear on the body, and in the latter stages of the disease the poison even works down and destroys the bones. No other disease is so highly contagious, and many have contracted it and suffered its awful consequences through a friendly hand-shake, handling the clothing of one afflicted with it, or drinking from the same vessel. S. S. S., The King of Blood Purifiers, is the only cure for Contagious Blood Poison. It goes down into the circulation and forces out every particle of the virus. It is nature's antidote for this peculiar poison, and cures the disease in all its stages, and cures it permanently. S. S. S. does not hide or cover up any of the poison to break out in future years, but so completely eradicates it from the blood that no signs are ever seen again. S. S. S. is purely vegetable, we offer $1,000 for proof that it contains a particle of mineral of any kind. Book with instructions for home treatment and any medical advice you desire will be furnished by our physicians without charge.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Kidney troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

IMMENSE PLANT

Greatest Steel Producer In the World to Be Built In Indiana.

TO SPEND $75,000,000

Before This Immense Plant Is Completed the Above Enormous Outlay Will Have Been Made.

Chairman Gary of the United States Steel Corporation Talks of the Plans.

New York, March 9.—E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, has given out a statement in connection with the proposed construction of the immense steel plant in Indiana on the south shore of Lake Michigan. Judge Gary states, among other things, that the Steel corporation will either issue its own bonds to the extent of $25,000,000 to $35,000,000, or guarantee the interest on a bond issue to that amount.
"As our statements have shown," said Judge Gary, "there has been set aside already $10,000,000 for the construction of this plant. As the work progresses more funds will be required, and it is the consensus of opinion that it would not be to the best interests of all concerned to pay for the entire cost of the new plant out of earnings."
"In the next five years we expect that there will be $75,000,000 spent on the new plant, which will be the most modern in the world. Our estimates are that the total annual output will be 1,750,000 tons of finished steel. At present the total output of the Steel corporation of finished steel amounts to about 8,000,000 tons. It will be seen, therefore, that the additional tonnage will add greatly to the total output of the corporation."

MAZE OF TECHNICALITIES
Even the Lawyers Grow Confused in Their Objectives.
Indianapolis, March 9.—Step by step the attorneys representing Mr. Sherick are fighting every move made by the prosecution. Already more legal technicalities have developed in the case than usually come up in the whole course of many important trials. Point after point in the testimony is objected to so rapidly that the jury appears to be dazed and frequently the attorneys forget on just what question Judge McCullough is expected to rule. The statutes are consulted frequently to make more clear some contested point, and the knowledge of law demanded by both sides of the controversy makes the young law students, many of whom are spending their spare hours in the courtroom, gasp for breath.

The courtroom is crowded. Every chair is occupied and many persons stand. The spectators, who are drawn to the courtroom under the impression that something sensational is likely to develop, soon grow tired of the dull, monotonous grind. Only those near the judge's bench can hear what is said, and possibly one out of every five understands the nature of the discussion.
Tragedy at a Merry-making.
Brownburg, Ind., March 9.—With the words, "I'll shoot you," Sam Watson, twenty-five years old, of this place, entered a room at the home of his uncle, George Watson, where a party was being held last evening and leveling a revolver at Mrs. Alice McNelly, twenty-three years old, shot her in the neck, inflicting injuries from which she is not expected to recover. Watson wore a mask at the time of the attack. He asserted that the shooting was accidental. It is said there was no ill feeling between Watson and Mrs. McNelly. Friends of the young man assert that the shooting was accidental and that Watson probably thought the weapon was not loaded. Watson is a married man, but some time ago separated from his wife.

Governor Haas Heard of It.
Indianapolis, March 9.—Dispatches from Chicago say that a big Chicago gambling syndicate has opened a pool and stock-gambling room at Clark Station on the Wabash railroad in Indiana. Governor Hanly said that he had not heard of the establishment of the gambling rooms, and would not discuss any possible action that he might take until he had been informed officially of the matter.

Both Lost Their Jobs.
Scottsburg, Ind., March 9.—George Younker, postmaster at Vienna, and Peter Ball, rural mail carrier, had a misunderstanding over a money order, and blows were exchanged. As a result both have been removed by the postoffice department.

Accused of Embezzlement.
Monticello, Ind., March 9.—Frank A. Mower, accused of embezzlement, growing out of the failure of the bank at Wolcott, is on trial in the White circuit court.

Killed by Train.
South Bend, Ind., March 9.—Michael Brzesniak, a section laborer, and the father of ten children, was killed by a train.
